

University at Albany
SUNY Louis Stokes Alliance for Minority Participation
(SUNY LSAMP)

LSAMP Bridge to the Doctorate

The Bridge to the Doctorate program is a graduate fellowship and support program for former LSAMP participants or students graduating from an LSAMP institution, who are planning to matriculate in a graduate program in Science, Technology, Engineering or Mathematics (STEM).

UAlbany's Office of Graduate Student Diversity and lead institution, SUNY Stony Brook, have been granted National Science Foundation (NSF) Bridge to Doctorate Program.

The University at Albany is now recruiting 9 talented students for two-year graduate fellowships of $30,000 for Fall 2014!!

Students will also receive full tuition, fees and health insurance, in addition to support services, academic workshops, and professional workshops.

University at Albany
SUNY Louis Stokes Alliance for Minority Participation
(SUNY LSAMP)

Office of Graduate Student Diversity
University at Albany
1400 Washington Avenue, UAB 121
Albany, NY 12222
Phone: (518) 442 - 3899
Fax: (518) 442 - 3922
E-mail: bshadrick@albany.edu

Eligibility: All interested candidates must:

- Have participated in an LSAMP Program or related program
- Have obtained a Bachelor in a STEM Discipline
- Be a U.S. Citizen or Permanent Resident
- Have a 3.0 or higher GPA
- Plan to matriculate into a STEM grad program at UAlbany

Application:

www.albany.edu/graduate/bridge-to-the-doctorate.php

For more information please contact:

Dr. Betty P. Shadrick

Assistant Dean, Director of Graduate Student Diversity
University at Albany

National Science Foundation
WHERE DISCOVERIES BEGIN